Peach's Corner Café – Now Open

Our recently completed project in Aspen, Peach's Corner Café is now open for business. Peach's occupies the popular corner of Hopkins Avenue and Galena Streets in Aspen. Named after the nickname of the owner's mother, the new local hotspot offers breakfast and lunch. R+B provided interior design services and furniture specification. Modeled after revered urban coffee shops, Peach's is the Aspen version with a clean, modern interior. Solid wood paneling is detailed like an orchard fruit box and contrasts with the new planked vinyl flooring. Zebra wood chairs and maple butcher block tables in a variety of heights offers a welcoming atmosphere. Chrome wire shelving displays merchandise as if in a market. The lighting is simple and industrial.

Delicious Designs – Colorado Architecture Month

R+B is celebrating Colorado Architecture Month by participating in the American Institute of Architecture's Delicious Designs program. Delicious Designs is a program that commemorates Colorado architecture through dessert for the month of April. This program is designed to draw attention to the importance of architecture and its effect on our everyday lives. AIA wants to communicate how architecture influences our daily lives through working, playing, living and eating. For the month of April local restaurants and architecture firms team up to design and offer a dessert that is representative of Colorado architecture. R+B is partnering with local restaurant, Luca d'Italia on the dessert creation. The Colorado State Capital building was mutually selected by R+B's Shane Martin, AIA and Luca's chef, Mike Pechak for the proximity of the structure to the restaurant, just a mile, as well as the fact that it is the most venerated building in the state. Colorado Architecture Month officially began April 1st. Luca d'Italia will be serving the dessert exclusively for the month of April. For more information on Luca d'Italia and to make a reservation visit www.lucadenver.com. For more information on all the restaurants participating in the Delicious Desserts program visit www.coloradoarchitecturemonth.com.

Sarah Broughton, AIA Awarded "Top 20 Under 40" By Mountain States Construction

Mountain States Construction magazine has honored Sarah Broughton, AIA with its annual "Top 20 Under 40" award featured in the magazine's April 2010 issue. The accolade highlights the best of the best among young professionals in the construction and design industries. Peers, co-workers and managers nominated more than 40 people from the Colorado construction and design industries. A panel of seven judges then selected the Top 20 based on criteria that included: achievement of, or progress toward, industry certifications, including professional licensure or LEED AP; community service; industry involvement; and contribution to creating or building landmark Colorado projects. This year's winners will be honored at a party jointly hosted by McGraw-Hill Construction and the Association of General Contractors (AGC) of Colorado. R+B Denver will be attending the Happy Hour Networking Event on April 21 at 4 p.m. at the Lucky Strike Lounge at Belmar in Lakewood.

HD Summit – "Infectious"

In late February, Jason E. Goldberg, attended Hospitality Design Summit 2010 in Pebble Beach, California. Hospitality Design Summit is the industry's only networking conference focused on ideas outside hospitality. The invite-only event is designed to sharpen the leadership skills designers use daily. New information, new thinking...from top global thought-leaders, academicians, researchers, authors, inventors, and strategists was presented to the elite group. Read Jason's complete review of the event including highlights from the most memorable speakers and presentations.
